

Coverage of Research Supplies Fee

The PhD committees have established the criteria for students to request reimbursement or any budgets based on Research Supplies Fee (300,000 baht) with the purpose to more effectively and productively manage the fees as assigned by the Faculty of Graduate Studies. This fee is for the PhD program managing activities, environments, and material or equipment in order to assist students to successfully complete his/her thesis. The activities that the students will be able to request reimbursement or any budgets are as follows:

1. payments for collecting the data for thesis
 - Material and instruments used in the thesis
 - Payment for the participants
 - Research assistant as needed
 - Fees for ethical process
 - Translation cost
 - Copyright cost
2. Registration fee for a course or workshop needed for the thesis process. The program will pay registration fee for only one course/workshop.

How to ask for the research supplies fee

1. The student will submit the dissertation budget at/after the proposal presentation
2. The budget will be approved by the PhD committee in October for the first semester and in March for the second semester

Special notice:

1. Other than these activities will be submitted to PhD Committee with the approval of major advisor for special consideration. The consideration of PhD Committee will be the final result.
2. Each student will reimburse any thesis related payment with the upper limit of two-third of the fees that the student paid.